MINSTRELS TO SING NEW HIT.

Gonzaga Students Will Render Father Donnelly's Lyric.

"What an Irishman Means by Machree" will be rendered by the Gonzaga College Minstrels in the college hall tonight and tomorrow night. A minstrel performance and entertainment will be given, and "Machree" will be given its first public rendering in Washington.

The song is the composition of a priest of the Society of Jesus, Rev. Francis P.
Donnelly, recently made president of Gonzaga College and rector of St.
Aloysius Church.

Before coming to Washington he was for twelve years professor of rhetoric at the Woodstock House of Studies. Writing the lyric for "Machree" has brought the clergyman's name into prominence in musical and dramatic circles.

LUSITANIA TO BE THEME.

Dr. Fisher Will Tell of Rescue from Torpedoed Ship.

Dr. Howard Fisher, a local physician, and a brother of Walter L. Fisher, former Secretary of the Interior, will deliver a lecture Friday evening at the Home Club, 14 Jackson Place northwest, on his experiences in the Lusitania disaster, including a description of his five months' imprisonment in France and England.

Dr. Fisher was rescued only after a thrilling fight with death, and his lecture is expected to bring out one of the largest audiences that have attended a similar affair at the club this year. His description of England and France during the war times is expected to be exceptionally interesting.

Arthur Powell Davis, director and chief engineer of the Reclamation Service, will preside.

LOCAL ART IS LECTURE THEME

Speaker Takes Members of Parents' League on Trip to Capital's Public Buildings.

"Art as Seen in Washington," a lecture by Gilbert M. Eiseman, with an accompanying series of excellent views and motion pictures depicting life and institutions of the Capital City, was the main attraction of the entertainment given by the Parents' League of the third division of public schools in the J. O. Wilson Normal School last night. The fact that the lecture was given twice the day before did not appear to detract from the enthusiastic interest of those who saw the pictures and heard the lecturer's views.
The entertainment was the first of the winter season social plan of the league, and other similar lectures and entertainments will take place from time to time. Joseph W. Leverton and Jesse L.
Leverton were in charge of the affair. A unique feature of the evening was the little flower girls and ring bearers in dresses of floral tulle and carrying huge chrysanthemums and roses for distribution among the audience.

During the lecture in Mr. Eiseman's talk Edith King Turner, who is promi-nently identified with the playground movement, spoke for several minutes. She complimented the children for their opportunity to take part in such entertainments, and said she was particularly pleased to see that they were being taught the habit of thrift in childhood by the school savings bank.

School Prize Shown.

Mr. Eiseman was secured as lecturer through the efforts of Mrs. Ida E.
Kebler, president of the Parents' League.
Starting with several exquisite flower pictures, Mr. Eiseman took his audience on a personally conducted tour of the most artistic buildings in the city.

An orchestra furnished the music which accompanied the motion pictures of street scenes and the G. A. R. parade.
Former President Taft was warmly applauded last night when he appeared on the screen.

Following the exhibition of many of the finer examples of art in the Congressional Library and Capitol, stereoscopic slides of the new frieze to be erected in the Central High School were shown.
Mr. Eiseman pointed out the likeness of many men locally well known, including the architect, contractor and principal of the new high school, which are in the new frieze.

RESERVE BANK EARNINGS DROP

Regional Institutions Take in $5,000 Less in October Than in September.

ST. LOUIS HAS DEFICIT

Richmond District Does Well, Net Gain Being $16,739—New York Leads.

The total net earnings of the twelve regional banks for the month of October were only $87,936.22, according to a statement yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board. Not only is the margin of earnings over expenses comparatively small in nearly all of the districts, but the St. Louis bank reported a deficit of $218 and the Philadelphia bank reported that it had earned only $7.35 over its expenses.

It was predicted yesterday that critics of the Federal Reserve system will find in this statement subject matter for their arguments that the new currency system is little more than a reserve system and is not yet to be regarded as having made important advances in the field of banking business. The board's statement disclosed that the earnings for October were small as they were nearly $50,000 in excess of the earnings for July, and $10,000 in excess of the earnings for August. In September the banks earned approximately $5,000 more than in October. The increase in the past two months over the summer months is attributable to the extended business being done by the Southern banks in handling cotton paper. For instance, the net earnings of the Richmond district banks were more than $15,000 each, while the Atlanta bank reported net earnings of $11,000.

New York Earnings High.

The total earnings of the New York reserve banks, which were the highest of the reserve system, were $20,478.25, out of which current expenses amounting to $23,748.48 had to be paid, leaving an excess of earnings of $16,729.77. The volume of business of the New York banks fell off $7,300 from the September figures and the net earnings were approximately half of the September net. The New York bank had reported net earnings of $5,000 in August, and a deficit of nearly $2,000 in July.

The total business done by the Philadelphia bank in October produced earnings amounting to $10-$8,545, all but $2,727 of which was needed for expenses. In September the Philadelphia bank reported net earnings of $1,640, whereas in August the net profit had been only $65, and in July expenses had exceeded earnings by $6,600.

Lower Ohio Valley. Temperature, in the South and in interior valleys will rise Wednesday, and it will be warmer Thursday in Atlantic coast districts.
